

KNOW GOD'S HEART

for The Next Generation in Asia

Synopsis

Some 1.2 billion adolescents aged 10 to 19 years today make up 16% of the world's population... More than half of all adolescents globally live in Asia.¹ Here in Singapore, there are roughly 67,200 non-resident international students comprising 4% of the 1.68 million non-residents as of June 2019².

What is God's heart for the next generation in Asia? Do we have a part in God's missional heartbeat for them? How can we reach out cross-culturally and disciple them for Christ, both overseas and among the international students in our midst? Come and join the webinar to find out!

Speakers

Wayne Sim
Director of Go Centre
YWAM Singapore

Wayne Sim has a heart for discipleship, missions, young people and fitness. He served as a physical training instructor (PTI) in the Singapore Armed Forces for 6.5 years. Thereafter, he felt God call him to missions full-time. He spent 2.5 years serving the Chinese urban house churches through Asian Outreach (China ministries) based in Hong Kong. It was here that he pioneered Christian boot camps during summer to train boys in character, discipleship and leadership. Coming back to Singapore in 2012, God led him to do his Discipleship Training School (DTS) at Youth With a Mission (YWAM) and that changed his life completely. He has been on staff in YWAM Singapore since 2013 serving and leading DTS. He is also part of its Leadership Team and is currently serving as the Director of Go Centre. He is married to Edelweiss and they have a beautiful daughter named Bethany.

Zephy Wong
Campus Ministry Staff
NUS Varsity
Christian Fellowship
Fellowship of Evangelical Students

Zephy Wong has been working with the Fellowship of Evangelical Students (FES) for four years. He is currently the Campus Ministry staff worker for NUS Varsity Christian Fellowship (VCF). He has also been involved in ministry among international students, even when he was still a student. He and his wife worship at Covenant EFC and serve in the youth ministry. He enjoys hanging out with friends, watching movies, and playing ultimate frisbee.
